The Porcus Wound stopper

Leg problems are the most common cause of euthanasia of sows, therefore better treatment is important.

Hoof abscesses

Hoof baths, as shown in the picture, fit into most pens in the running/control barn.

- The hoof bath is filled with lukewarm water and brown soap.

Take-home

1. Production AND animal welfare
 2. Hernia pigs should be euthanized more systematically. Group them in a few pens and check them daily. Euthanize if wounds appear.
 3. Always provide soft bedding in sick pens—this is still missing in many places.
 4. Remember: If you are in doubt, you are not in doubt—better to euthanize.
 5. Use and display treatment records for sows in sick pens.
- Bonus: FVST will be controlling animal welfare from May→September 2025
